From Guatemala.

Mr. John Rice Chandler, ex-vice consul general of the United States to Central America, together with his wife, have taken up their residence in this city for the winter to enjoy the benefits of our health giving climate. Mr. Chandler, whose official head was decapitated by Graven the Great, talks very entertainingly of his life and observations in the land of the tropics. Owing to the enervating influence of the climate there, he says the natives have hardly energy enough to wake up three times a day to eat something, and on account of this prevailing laziness of the inhabitants the country presents a very inviting field for energetic and enterprising Americans those who can go there with a little money. It is a poor country for a man entirely without means. Colleaguing, the principal industry, is highly profitable and but little engaged in by Americans. There are fortunes in store for American young men who go there and engage in that industry, thinks Mr. Chandler. It requires five years for a newly started coffee plantation to become profitably productive, but at the expiration of that time the annual income from it will soon place its owner among the nobles of the land.

SAFETY-CRACKERS CAPTURED.

Three Men Arrested at Trinidad for Safe Robbing.

Last night through a little tip and by the clever work of officers three safe-blowers were captured and placed in the county jail.

Soon after reporting for duty Officer Bowden received the tip and immediately posted Constable Lewis and Officer Bramlett and telephoned Marshal Vaughn who was at supper.

All the force began shadowing suspicious looking characters, and it was not long before Lewis and Bramlett located the place that was to be gone through.

Between 7:30 and 8 o'clock the three safe-blowers went to the back end of Bowen & Love's feed store, just north of the Union Pacific track on Commercial street, and began to clean out a place through which they could get their hand and open the door. They had just come up and the head light revealed them so plainly that they jumped down and started to run, but had just gone a few yards when they were nabbed by Lewis & Bramlett, who were secreted themselves behind some cars. The men were taken up to the station and searched, and the following safe-blower's tools were found on them: One common chisel, a brace and bit, six drills, one drifting chisel, two punches, one drifting tube and a nine pound mechanic's hammer.

The parties were taken up on to the county jail and locked up. They gave their names as Dave Hamm, E. W. Davis and Frank Lewis. Advertiser.
